Cape Town - Nautic South Africa has donated ZAR50000 to the Simons Town High School Lawhill Maritime Centre. The money will go towards a much-needed new website, photo scanner and audio visual equipment for the Centre. The centre receives no state funding, with the majority of its students coming from under-privileged homes and so it depends heavily on the maritime industry for assistance. Eddie Noble, Project Director for Nautic South Africa's Vessel Operations Management team recently visited Lawhill to hand over the cheque to the principal; Brian Ingpen who accepted the donation with gratitude.
